DECEIT.

Of all of God's creatures the most pitiable is that man who wants to be thought something that he is not. Yet, perhaps, there is not a human weakness that is so universal. The average man of wealth is just as anxious that the public should think him wealthier than he really is as the poor man is to conceal his true financial condition.

Why should this be? Why should the clerk who works for $50 a month, or the man who has not a dollar in his pocket be ashamed for the world to know it? Money does not constitute merit or true respectability. "The goat is but the guinea's stamp, a man's a man for a' that," and that man who has a clear conscience, good health and the power to fully appreciate the manifold beauties of God's creation, is far richer than were the treasures of Cresus or the sands of Pactolus.

This species of hypocrisy is even more inexcusable in the rich than it is in the poor, for the latter often practice it under a mistaken sense of preserving respectability, while with the former it is but pure and simple vanity. In both instances it is as unnecessary as it is foolish. Be what you are. Say to the world, "I stand not upon my wealth. I estimate not my poverty, I am a man; pay homage to me if you will, but at no price will I seek to buy it with false pretenses."

Mr. Sauter Injured.

A. Sauter, foreman of the boiler shops at the Roanoke Machine Works, was out driving with his family Sunday afternoon. The horses became frightened and overturned the buggy, throwing Mr. Sauter against a wire fence and painfully injuring him. A physician dressed his wounds and with proper care he will be able to be out again soon.

To Move His Stone Crusher Here.

W. F. Patterson, the street contractor, will move his stone crushing plant from Big Spring to Roanoke and locate it at the end of Norfolk avenue on the site of the old limestone quarry. This will enable him to get out stone much faster, as it will do away with the hauling from Big Spring.

Presented With a Rubber Coat.

Sergeant Griffin, of the police force, has been presented with a very handsome rubber coat by his brother, who lives in Erie, Pa. The coat was made in Cleveland, Ohio, and is one of the finest of its kind.

An Approaching Marriage.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Sallie L. Owen to Harry S. Frizelle. The ceremony will take place at the First Presbyterian Church Wednesday evening, August 10, at seven o'clock.

Mr. Pechin in the City.

E. C. Pechin, formerly general manager of the Virginia Development Company, arrived in Roanoke last night from Cleveland. He will remain here about one week.

Newly Painted Wagons.

The wagons of the Roanoke Transfer Company have received new coats of paint, and present a very handsome appearance. The wagon that carries the mail has "U. S. M." painted on it in large letters.

Work on the Academy.

The plumbers will commence work in the Academy of Music to-day. The interior decorators will also begin their labors this week and the house will soon begin to look like a theatre.

Mr. Harrison Returns Home.

L. Harrison, who has been visiting his daughter and sons in this city, left last night for his home at Dalton, Ga.

SHIMLAKER, photographer, 301 Jefferson.

PRESS COMMENTS.

The First Gun of the Salute.

From the Doyleston (Pa.) Democrat.
The Alabama victory is the first gun of the salute that welcomes Cleveland to the White House.

Protection is Slavery—Free Trade is Emancipation.

From the Harrisburg (Pa.) Patriot.

The Democratic platform is the emancipation proclamation of 63,000,000 who are slaves to the protection masters that have kept them in bondage for thirty years.

Alabama May Be Counted on Safely in November.

From the New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The election shows clearly that Alabama is clearly Democratic, and can be counted on to return an overwhelming majority for Cleveland in November.
The attempt to split the party there as elsewhere in the South has proved a failure.

Pausing for a Reply to This Pointed Question.

From the Memphis Appeal-Avalanche.

If Congress has been extravagant, President Harrison could have checked it, but he has not done so. Does any one doubt that Mr. Cleveland would, if President, put down extravagant expenses.

For Mexicanizing the United States.

From the St. Louis Republic.

The Force bill is too voluminous for publication in a newspaper, but the Republic hopes every voter will write to his Congressman for an official copy of it, that he may see how skillfully the Harrison radicals have laid their plans for Mexicanizing the United States.

Unjust and Un-American in Spirit.

From the Kansas City Star.

Governor McKinley with all his earnestness and the apparent honesty of his convictions failed to strengthen the cause of protection because he has the wrong side of the argument and is seeking to bolster up a cause which experience has proved to be unjust and un-American in spirit.

Very Mad at the Economist.

From the Omaha Bee.

You cannot judge a State by one man.
There is Holman and yet there is Harrison, and both hail from Indiana.

Going to Finish Grover in a Western Paper.

From the Minneapolis Evening Tribune.

This is the way they sing it now: Grover, Grover, soon it will be over; He'll fall down and break his crown,
And that will finish Grover.

The Silver Electors All Republicans.

From the Chicago (Col.) Herald.

No man who is a silver advocate can object to endorsing the silver electors.
All were formerly Republicans and all are for silver. Let Colorado be unanimous in declaring for the white metal.

Is on the Down Grade, is the People's Party in Colorado.

From the Boise City (Idaho) Statesman.

The outlook for the People's party in Colorado does not seem so bright as it did a few days ago. The reaction and inevitable disintegration have begun, and the movement which has been in full swing there since the Omaha convention is on the downgrade.

High Wages Paid in Protection Countries Only.

From the Kansas City (Mo.) Journal.

Free traders will argue all day that the tariff does not raise wages, but they never once explain why it is only in a protection country that big wages are paid. A search through all the free trade countries on the globe would fail to show that workmen are earning the wages that the Homestead strikers refused.

Democrats No Longer Discuss Wages Paid at Homestead.

From the Burlington (Vt.) Free Press.

The Democrats do not seem to have developed any great degree of fondness for referring to the enormous wages which the employees at Homestead were receiving when they struck. The reason for their profound silence on this subject is evidently the fact that such high wages would be impossible without protection.

The Laws to be Strictly Enforced.

At a meeting of the board of health last night it was decided to strictly enforce the laws governing the return of contagious diseases and of death certificates. These laws have been practically a dead letter until recently, and the board proposes to take active measures toward securing complete and prompt returns.

Fell From a Car.

Ben Battle, a colored brakeman in the West End yard, fell from a car Sunday and had his face bruised and painfully cut. Surgical aid was rendered at the office of Drs. Gale and Kolner.

Mr. Chas. N. Hauer

Of Frederick, Md., suffered terribly for over ten years with abscesses and running sores on his left leg. He wasted away, grew weak and thin, and was obliged to use a cane and crutch.
Everything which could be thought of was done without good result, until he began taking

Hood's Sarsaparilla

which effected a perfect cure. Mr. Hauer is now in the best of health. Full particulars of his case will be sent him who address C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

HOOD'S PILLS are the best after-dinner Pills, assist digestion, cure headache and biliousness.

TASZEWELL COUNTY FAIR.

An Ambitious Move in the Right Direction.

Special correspondence of THE TIMES, HOTEL GRAHAM,
GRAHAM, Va., Aug. 8.

Under the progressive management of the officers and board of directors of the Tazewell County Agricultural and Mechanical Society, this section is to have, beginning with September 20th, and continuing till the 24th inclusive, a most entertaining, instructive and profitable exhibit of the material resources of this abundantly rich region.

There is nothing like the county fair to produce enthusiasm and disseminate information to those inside and out of the immediate neighborhood; but when those in charge of the enterprise indulge the aspiration to become greater in scope and seek to interest surrounding counties, then the fruit of such enterprises begins to ripen and the result is the State Fair.

Richmond has too long claimed precedence as the head center of this great commonwealth and the sooner we show her that Southwest Virginia is really the veritable center of the Old Dominion, and prove to ourselves that we can, if necessary, establish a new state, and profit by the change; the sooner we assert our independence and act accordingly by holding our own State fair, either in Roanoke, the gateway, or in the garden itself, this superiorly rich section, then we will begin truly to reap the harvest justified by the gift of nature.

So do we see in this Tazewell County Agricultural and Mechanical Society the "first fruits of them that sowed," and the awakening will soon be heralded throughout the State and our friends in Eastern Virginia will learn, as well as those further North, that when these mountains labour they bring forth Lions, and that soon the "Lion's share" will be ours. E. A. P.

VINTON.

E. Henning Smith, a commercial traveler for Watkins & Davenport, Richmond, is visiting his people here.

Vinton Lodge, No. 204, A. F. and A.
M., held a called communication last night. The fellow-craft's degree was conferred upon one candidate.

Rev. C. H. Buchanan preached at the Methodist Church Sunday morning and night.

Rev. T. S. Brown preached in St.
James' Lutheran Church at 11 a. m.
Sunday.

Frank A. Gish spent Sunday in Bottourt county.

Capt. W. C. Bass, of the Grottoes, was in town Sunday shaking hands with old friends.

The many friends of Miss Ada Britt will be pleased to hear that she is reconvalescing from her recent illness.

E. L. Wilkinson, of Virginia City, is visiting his parents here.

Scott W. Kasey went to Bedford City yesterday on business.

G. W. Moseley, of Lynchburg, came up a few days ago to visit his brother, W. S. Moseley. Both of them started yesterday morning for Ostrander, Ohio, where they will spend several weeks with their brother, Alexander C. Mose-ley. In the absence of Depot Agent Moseley his place will be filled by Relief Agent J. N. Wells.

G. T. and R. S. Cork, of Bonsack, who have been to Norfolk and Virginia Beach, returned yesterday morning.

The Vinton baseball team returned from Fincastle Saturday night, bringing the news of their defeat in a game with the Fincastle club. The score stood 7 to 4. An early day the clubs will cross bats again.

R. M. Jones went to Fincastle Sunday and returned yesterday.

George W. Dearing and family spent the day Sunday on Mill Mountain.

Mrs. James Rieley is visiting relatives at Blue Ridge Springs.

Alexander Maxey and Reid McGuire are the guests of S. E. McGuire, on Walnut street.

Misses Manie Hunter, Nola Britt and Messrs. Willie Bush and Frank Kasey drove to Coyner Sunday evening.

T. J. Goggin, of Salem, spent Sunday at his father's.

Miss Sallie Jones left Saturday for Cave Spring, where she will spend some time visiting friends.

Vinton postoffice has recently been made a money order office.

William Eubank, attorney at law, of Bedford City, is in town.

J. H. Hunter, S. E. McGuire and S.
W. Kasey visited friends near Alleghany Institute Sunday evening.

George W. Cook, of Bonsack, was in town yesterday.

With a capital stock of $50,000 and an experience of twelve years in the piano and organ business, enable the Hobbie Music Company to offer inducements to purchasers which they cannot get from small dealers. They handle the standard instruments of the world.

A Young Ladies' School.

On September 12 Mrs. M. C. Massie will open in this city her school for young ladies. This school is too well and favorably known to need comment and it is only necessary to add that for the ensuing year a full corps of experienced and efficient teachers has been secured, who will give thorough instruction in English, Latin, mathematics, modern languages, music and art.
The surroundings are homelike, the location healthy and no better place could parents find in the State to educate their daughters than is Mrs.
Massie's school.

New Excursion Route to Niagara Falls.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad announces the second excursion to Niagara Falls for Thursday, August 11th. A special train of Pullman parlor cars and day coaches will leave Washington at 7:35 a. m. and Baltimore at 8:45 a. m., arriving at Niagara Falls at midnight.
The train will traverse the interesting anthracite coal regions of Pennsylvania and the Lehigh and Wyoming valleys, which are replete with historic interest and famous for their picturesque scenery. Tickets will be good to return ten days from date of sale, and on return journey will be valid to stop off at Rochester, the weird and romantic Glen Onoko, Mauch Chunk and Elmira.
The round trip rate from Baltimore and Washington will be $10.

IN THE CORRIDORS.

Interesting Chat Heard at the Different Hotels.

J. H. Hall, of Dothen, Ala., who has been spending the summer with relatives in Tazewell county, was in the city yesterday, and in regard to politics in his State said: "While I have not been at home during the hottest of the campaign I nevertheless understand the situation pretty thoroughly. So long as he considered that there was any chance for him Kolb was a good Democrat, but when he at last came to understand that Democratic gubernatorial lightning seldom strikes small timber he at once became the head and front of the Farmers' Alliance movement, hoping to receive the nomination, draw all of the 'isms' to his support, and, by reiterating the assertion of his sound Democracy, draw enough discontented Democrats to his standard to elect him.
Nor were his myrmidons and henchmen slow to avail themselves of the uncertain negro vote by such means as they could reach him."

"However, the true blue Democrats understood Kolb all along and knew how to meet him at every point along the line. We would have looked upon his election as tantamount to a Republican victory and hence the bitterness of the fight. But from the beginning it was a well known fact that Kolb could not be elected. The Democrats of Alabama remind me of an ill-assorted couple that were tenants on my father's place when I was a boy. They would have a good old fashioned family row in which the so-called better half of the copartnership would come out second best."

"Several efforts were made by their neighbors to part the combatants, and it invariably ended in both of them jumping on the kindly hearted mediator and giving him a sound flogging. So long as they are left to themselves the Democrats of my State will split up in factions and brawls and quarrel and fight among each other with heroism worthy of a better cause, but the moment any other party intrudes itself the old differences are forgotten, they all unite and the result is that the fate of the intruder can only be compared to that of Pompeii and Herculaneum."

"Yes, I am aware of the fact that charges of fraud are freely made by both sides, but it strikes me that in order for fraud to be extensively used in an election a great deal of money is necessary. I do not know about the Kolb faction, but I am sure that very little money was spent by the Alabama Democrats, for the truth is they did not have it to spend. Governor Jones is a poor man. He would not permit his friends to spend money to elect him to office, and if he were rich he would be above buying votes to defeat any man or party. Perhaps after all there is very little in this talk of fraud at the polls. The defeated side must always have someone to abuse, and it is seldom that either will do justice to its opponent."

"Yes, sir, my section of the State is improving very rapidly. A few years ago where Dothen now stands was a cross-roads store and a big spring of cold water. The Alabama Midland railway passed through and our city sprang up as though by magic from nothing to six thousand population. The entire southeastern part of the State has been apparently in a lethargic condition since the war, until a few years ago, when it began to improve, and now it is my opinion that not even the wonderful growth of this beautiful region greatly surpasses ours."

S. M. Meyers, of Harrisburg, Pa., was at the Ponce de Leon Hotel yesterday and in regard to the political situation in Pennsylvania said: "It is indeed difficult to tell what affect, if any, the late troubles at Homestead will have in the fall elections. Many of the people in that region are foreigners, not entitled to vote and many of them know so little about the situation that they will vote as directed. Pennsylvania, outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburg, is Democratic."

"My opinion is that in that State, as elsewhere, this fall will witness more independent voting than the country has ever known before. People are about tired of being manipulated as a party machine and they are beginning to think for themselves and they will vote accordingly. Of this I feel certain that Pennsylvania will not go Republican by anything like so large a majority as it gave Harrison in 1888."

A Woman Was the Cause.

Richard Duffelbower, well known in Roanoke, got into an altercation with a young man named James Case, at Shenandoah, Saturday night, and was shot and killed. It appears that the trouble grew out of a difficulty the men had about a woman of questionable character. Duffelbower, who was a large man, was advancing on Case, who is a slender youth, seventeen years of age, when the latter drew a revolver and fired. The bullet entered the left breast and death was almost instantaneous.

Work of An Incendiary.

Smoke was seen issuing from a house belonging to John Davis and lately occupied by Hattie Dicer in the flats last night about 10:30 o'clock. The fire companies responded promptly to the call and the flames, which had made but little headway, were soon extinguished.
The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary as the house was unoccupied.
By the scent that came from the building a liberal use had been made of kerosene oil. The damage to the building was very slight.

The Track Not in Condition.

The torn up condition of the race track at the Lake and Driving Park prevented the members of the Roanoke bicycle club from making the twelve hours' run they expected Saturday night, with a view of covering 100 miles in that time, thereby becoming members of the Century Club. The run will be made as soon as the track can be gotten in a proper condition.

The Blood is the Fountain of Life

Therefore if the blood be impure and unhealthy, the body will become sick and diseased, will fasten itself upon it and death will mark it as one of its early victims. Make clean the blood, and scrofula, old sores, eczema, and kindred diseases will disappear, and health and happiness reign where disease and misery held sway. We ask you to suffer, take Dr. David's India-Purified Sarsaparilla. It has no equal as a blood purifier.
Just try it. Price, $1.00 per bottle, six bottles for $5.00, at Massie & Martin's, Roanoke, Va.
